Amtrak Takes You To The

Amtrak lets you enjoy Cubs and White Sox action at its best. Our convenient schedules can get you to Chicago in the morning and back that night. Stay longer, if you like, and take advantage of Amtrak's Midwest Escapades hotel specials.

The ride is comfortable. Snacks and hot or cold beverages are available.

Amtrak arrives at downtown Chicago's Union Station, where you can catch a taxi or use the Chicago Transit Authority (CTA) to get to Wrigley Field (Cubs) or Comiskey Park (White Sox). The CTA costs only 90¢, plus 10¢ for a transfer.

Amtrak offers family, senior citizen and handicapped fares. Or have more fun and travel in a group at a very special fare. You get one free ticket for every 15 purchased.

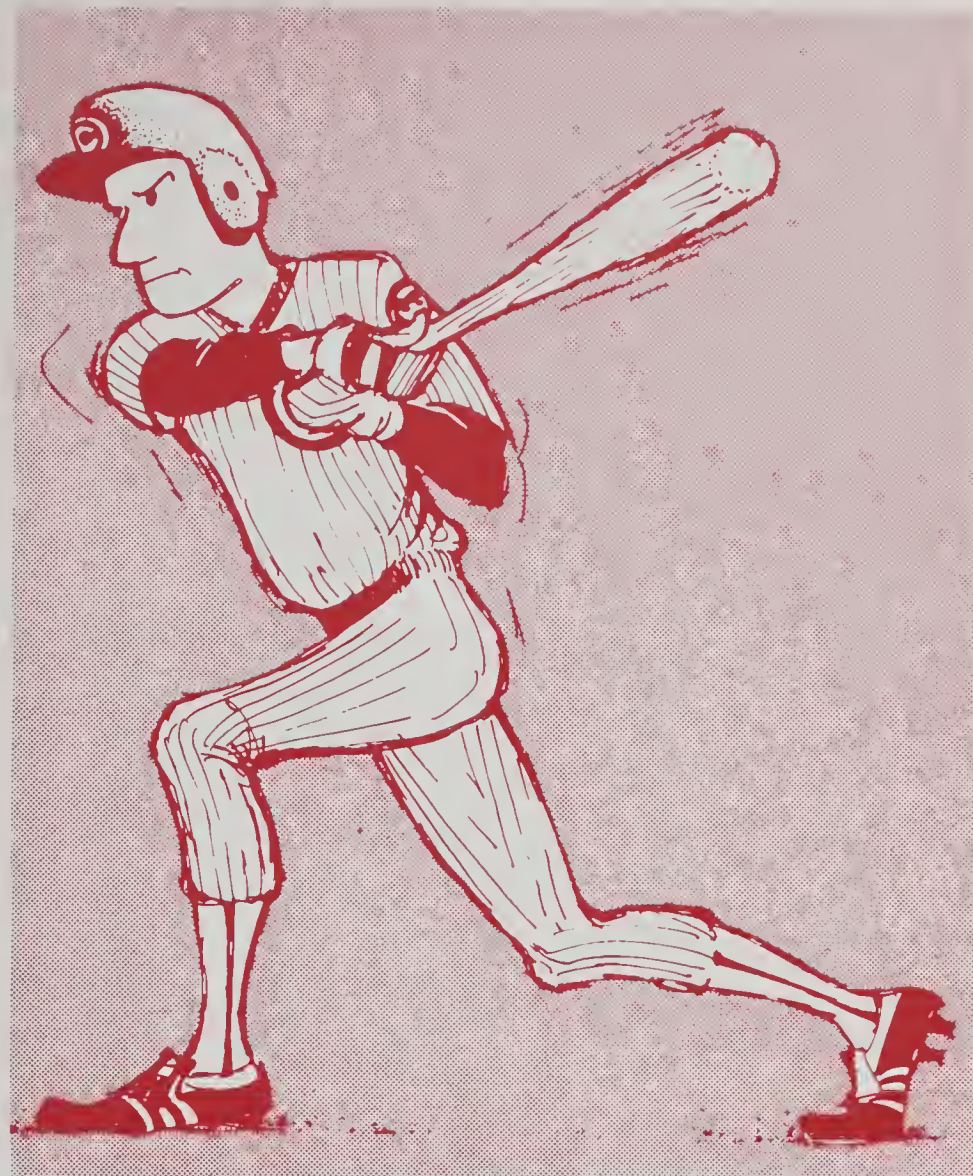

How to Get to the Ball Parks (see reverse side):

To Wrigley Field: Board a #1, 7, 126 or 151 bus on Adams and go east 7 blocks. Get off bus at State St. Take a northbound ("Howard - B") subway train to the Addison elevated station. (Note: On weekends and major holidays take any northbound "Howard" train.)

To Comiskey Park: Board a #1, 7, 126, 151 bus on Adams and go east 8 blocks. Get off bus at Wabash Ave. Board a southbound "Dan Ryan" elevated train to the Sox-35th St. station. (Note: If you're on a route #151 bus, get off at State St. and walk one block farther east on Adams to Wabash Ave.)

To Return to Union Station: Both from the State St. subway (train from Addison Sta.) and the Loop elevated (train from Sox-35th St. Sta.): Take a westbound bus (Route #1 or 151) from anywhere on Jackson Blvd. (one block south of Adams).

Buses and trains operate every 2 to 10 minutes, depending on time of day.

For Amtrak information call your travel agent or 1-800/USA-RAIL. For CTA information and schedules call 1-800/972-7000. There is also a free CTA/RTA information phone in Chicago Union Station next to the Amtrak baggage counter.
